Suicide-Safer Tips

Lethal means safety in suicide is prevention by making a method less available. By putting space and time between a person with thoughts of suicide and the means to attempt suicide, the person is less likely to die by suicide.

Firearms:

- Consider options to safely store outside the home when someone is in crisis:
- If legal, ask a trusted friend or family member to keep it temporarily:
- If they can't be removed from the home, lock the firearm and ammunition separately, or use a trigger lock. Ask a trusted friend or family member to keep the key.

Medications:

- Keep track of how many pills are in each prescription bottle and don't keep a lethal amount at home.
- Know what is lethal – some over-the-counter medications can be fatal in large amounts.
- Get rid of old medicines safely.
- Keep both prescription and over-the-counter medications secured, such as in a locked cabinet.

Alcohol & Drugs:

- Talk about how substance use is a major risk factor for suicide.
- Limit the amount available in the home.

Other Hazards:

- Know what is lethal - lock up potentially harmful common household products and poisons.
- Identify and remove ropes, cords, and wires.
- Lock up or remove knives and other sharps.

Provide Support:

- Know the suicide warning signs.
- Create a safe, judgement-free environment when talking about tough issues.
- If you have concerns, ask the person directly if they are thinking about suicide.
- Seek help when needed.

Is Your Home Suicide-Safer?

Limiting a suicidal person's access to fatal ways of attempting suicide can save their life.

Firearms

Lock or Remove.

More than half of all suicide deaths result from a gunshot wound.

Medications

Lock and Limit.

Most teens say prescription and other drugs are EASY to get from medicine cabinets. (drugfree.org)

Alcohol

Limit or Remove.

Alcohol abuse is associated with a significantly increased risk of suicide.

Other Hazards

Identify and Remove ropes, cords, and wires. Lock up or remove knives and other sharps.

Support

Ask, Listen and Act.

Ask directly if they are thinking about suicide. Listen closely and without judgment. Validate and support their feelings.

Poisons

Take Precautions.

Know what is lethal – many common household products, such as cleaners and pesticides, are toxic and can be fatal if ingested.

No method of means reduction is foolproof.
If you are concerned about a loved one, seek help.
